

- x It is the student's responsibility to work with faculty to determine how best to compensate for any missed classes/course work. Faculty are not obligated to teach material missed due to absence.
- x Students should familiarize themselves with each individual course attendance policy as stated by the instructor or in the class syllabus.
- x Students need to observe deadlines for submission of assignments. Extension of deadlines and making up exams cannot be guaranteed and will be considered on a case-by-case basis with the faculty.
- x Flexibility in testing dates and/or assignment deadlines should only be requested in the event students are experiencing an exacerbation in the symptoms of their disability and are intended to be used for every assignment.
- x Students should be aware that not all assignments (group work) are appropriate for flexibility in assignment deadlines. Ad in

- x Does the fundamental nature of the course rely on student participation as an essential method for learning?
- x To what degree does a student's failure to attend class constitute a significant loss to the educational experience of the class as a whole?
- x Are attendance requirements listed in the course syllabus? What are the classroom practices and policies regarding attendance?
- x What method is used to calculate a final grade for the course?
- x Are there specific assignments or exams which have unmovable dates, and would they be permitted for flexibility?
- x If an absence occurs on a date that an assignment is due or there is a scheduled exam, would students be able to submit the assignment via email or in late and/or reschedule the exam?
- x How many requests for flexibility in attendance or assignment deadlines (ve)4 (un(m))ETw 4 (e0