

Calining

Captioning is the synchronized text display of spoken words and background audio presented on a screen; this allows the viewer to follow the dialogue and the action of a program simultaneously. Captioning is available for academic purposes for students who have a documented disability requiring visual access to a spoken message.

Capining Co dinato

Katie Allison, M.Ed.